2027 Jen Pinder Winter Agility Workshops/Seminars

Descriptions

Defeating Discriminations (AKA Either or Training) – this session will go beyond what most think consider "discriminations" – i.e. Contact / Tunnel, but will address other types of discriminations where multiple obstacles are in close proximity to each other. You will work on short sequences that offer choices – take EITHER this one or THAT one. Contacts and weaves will be included.

Distance Handling & Layering - Use of layering is becoming more common (and necessary) in many of today's courses. Knowing how to move and where to look greatly improves your dog's ability to read when to go out and stay out and when to come in. This half day session will cover the training and skills to help improve your distance handling and layering. This session is especially valuable to those who have a dog that is much faster than you are!!

International Handling– For those who really enjoy a challenge! This full day workshop will challenge your handling skills as you face sequences that often show up in FCI/ISC/Premier classes.

Masters Short Sequences – A half day chock full of challenges facing masters handlers these days. Jen will help you navigate your way through these challenges and help you reach you agility goals.

Puppies – good for puppies from 12 weeks to one year. Jen will cover things she does with her puppies to prepare them for a career in agility. The two half day workshops will be divided by age.

Improving Your Threadle Skills – Spend a half day improving you and your dog's threadle slice/threadle wrap skills. This workshop will focus on how to handle these techniques. Although some information about how to initially teach them will be addressed, it will not focus on teaching the verbal skill.

Understanding Lines & Leads – This workshop will help you recognize the dog's lines in a sequence, how to know what lead they need to be on to get to that line, and how to help the dog change leads as needed.

Which Cross Where? - Front Cross, Rear Cross, Blind Cross – so many options! In this workshop, Jen will work with you to help you get a good understanding of where to use each kind of cross and the effects those choices can have on your handling.

Young Dog Sequencing – Targeted at young dogs just starting to put things together. Sequences will be between 4 and 8 obstacles, consisting of jumps and tunnels. Sequences may incorporate some technical skills.
